

BOYS & GIRLS CLUBS OF SAN BERNARDINO

Join us for a Unity (Umoja) Circle on the first day of Kwanzaa

Featuring a discussion following the viewing of the documentary film

"Souls of Black Girls", a Femme Noire production written, edited and produced by Daphne S. Valerius on Friday, December 26, 2008, 5:00 pm-7:00 pm at the

Boys and Girls Club of San Bernardino, CA

located at 1180 W. 9th Street

This provocative news documentary features candid interviews with young women discussing their self-image with added social commentary from actresses Regina King and Jada Pinkett Smith, PBS Washington Week Moderator Gwen Ifill, Rapper/Political Activist Chuck D, and Cultural Critic Michaela Angela Davis, among others. The Souls of Black Girls takes a critical look at media images—how they are instituted, established and controlled.

Sacred Sistahs, Inc.

For more information, please contact Dr. Tonia Causey-Bush at (909) 910-7564, or The San Bernardino Boys and Girls Club at (909) 888-6751

Sponsored by Sacred Sistahs, Inc. and the Boys and Girls Club of San Bernardino